

The SmallAnimalChannel Newswire - May 30, 2008

Stay up-to-date with the latest small animal news from all around the world.

Posted: May 30, 2008, 5 a.m. EDT

Could The European Hedgehog Population Be On The Decline?

A survey of pet populations using roadkill as a tally has people concerned that the European hedgehog population is decreasing, reports the Telegraph (United Kingdom). Read Article>>

Guinea Pigs Rule This Farmhouse

Guinea pig owner Ed Lavelle created a habitat for his guinea pigs that you have to see to believe, the MetroWest Daily News reports. Read Article>>

Robot Rabbit Unveiled

A robot rabbit responds to humans through touch to determine how touch affects the emotional relationship between robots and humans, the Thaindian (Thailand) reports. Read Article>>

New Rat Club In Buckden, England

The mother of an autistic boy who's a rat enthusiast started a rat club to avoid a long drive to a London Rat Club, the Hunts Post (United Kingdom) reports. Read Article>>

Used Stamps Help Wild European Hedgehogs

The British Hedgehog Preservation Society was surprised by a large donation of used first-class stamps from a school. The stamps help raise money to assist wild European hedgehogs, the North Devon Gazette reports. Read Article>>